RED TROOPS STORM INTO RUMANIA

U. S. AND NAZI PLANES BATTLE OVER HUNGARY

Budapest Target of Big U. S Bombers for First Time.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 3 — A great formation of American heavy bombers attacked Budapest today, opening out the first U. S. attacks on the Hungarian capital.

The bombers flew from bases in Italy, and the Berlin radio told of violent battles between American and German planes over Hungary.

The Budapest railway center and an important aircraft factory just south of the capital were the targets of the 15th airforce, a Naples announcement said.

Budapest, one of Europe's most beautiful cities, lies on both sides of the Danube. American and British planes had not bombed it previously, but the Russian airforce attacked it in September, 1940.

As a result of the bombing of Germany's industrial centers, the Reich has been reported moving factories into Hungary and also to be relying on the production of established Hungarian factories.

Budapest is a key point on rail networks linking Germany with the Balkans.

Details of the attack were not immediately announced, but it was known to be a very big one, with Flying Fortresses and Liberators participating.

It followed Sunday's heavy bomber raid on Steyr, Austria, in which more than 500 Italy-based bombers were escorted by Thunderbolt and Lightning fighters. More than 300 German planes attacked the Steyr raiders, and more than 100 attacking aircraft were shot down, the U. S. airforces announced.

First fragmentary reports from the enemy said 14 U. S. Planes were downed over the Hungarian capital, only recently occupied by the Germans. The Nazi DNB agency said "American escorted bombers" had been engaged over Hungary by German destroyer and fighter formations.

Earlier the Frankfurt and Calais radios were silent and the Nazis said "single enemy planes were flying over central and northwest Germany."

Budapest Damaged

Bombs were dropped on some sections of Budapest, causing damage, the German broadcast added.

The allied air offensive rolled on over the week-end, with Italy-based American heavy bombers smashing at aircraft and ball-bearing works at Steyr in old Austria Sunday on the heels of night attacks by Britain-based RAF Mosquitos against Hannover, Krefeld and Aachen.

The Steyr ballbearing factory is one of the most important plants of its type still in production and the Germans loosed an intense anti-aircraft barrage and sent up swarms of fighters in attempts to intercept the American raiders.

Allied headquarters in Naples announced today more than 100 enemy planes were reported destroyed in widespread aerial operations yesterday, which included the Steyr attack and raids in Italy and Yugoslavia. Thirty-three allied planes were missing.

The Berlin radio asserted that American planes, including 41 four-engined bombers, were shot down.

Other Points Hit

While Steyr, 90 miles from Vienna, was being pounded other fortresses and Liberators blasted the communications centers of Brod on the Belgrade-Zagreb line in Yugoslavia; Mostar, 50 miles southeast of Split, and the Sibenik rail yards, 50 miles north of Zara.

The Swiss government, meanwhile, made diplomatic representations over the accidental bombing Saturday of Schaffhausen—Swiss northern frontier town which is bounded on three sides by German territory.

The Swiss radio said the death toll stood at 35 and that 55 persons were injured by the bombs dropped by a small portion of a liberator force which U. S. headquarters said encountered "difficulties in navigation in bad weather."

The Swiss radio said "Swiss air space" again was violated yesterday afternoon. Nationality of the planes was not given.

13 DIE IN ERROR SHELLING

WASHINGTON, April 3—A Pacific fleet announcement has disclosed that three American landing craft were shelled accidentally by a U. S. destroyer at Eniwetok atoll Feb. 22, killing 13 men and wounding 46. The Navy announcement said the mishap resulted from the fact that both the destroyer and landing vessels were slightly out of scheduled positions and visibility was restricted.

German Attack at Anzio Repulsed; Italians Occupy Anzio Positions.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, April 3 — Allied troops have smashed an attack by German flame-throwers on the left flank of the beachhead below Rome, headquarters announced today, while Italian troops fighting with the allies occupied a third peak in the center of the main Fifth army front.

Flame-throwers spearheaded the attack of about 150 German infantrymen against the beachhead, which began an hour before dusk Friday after a heavy mortar barrage. It was launched in the same vicinity as the raid of the previous day in which the Germans forced a slight withdrawal by the allies about a mile and a half southwest of Carroceto, 21 miles below Rome.

Fire Continues Through Night

Although the mortar fire continued to thunder throughout the night, the infantry attackers were either dead or routed by midnight.

German tanks moved forward at a point about four miles west of Cisterna, on the eastern edge of the beachhead, but were driven back by artillery fire.

The new peak seized by the Italians was identified as point 1,344. Yesterday the Italians were disclosed to have occupied 3,600 foot Mt. Castelnuovo, without opposition.

Nazis Repulsed at Cassino

Enemy patrols in the Cassino area were repulsed and there were artillery duels in the Adriatic sector and the Garigliano river region.

The German attack against the beachhead, like the one which preceded it, was by no means a duplication of the four earlier offensives to smash the allies back into the sea. There is every indication the Germans have given up hope of that and now are merely engaging in harassing attacks.

The Germans are busy erecting barbed wire fences and other defenses along the perimeter, indicating a defensive attitude.

Bucyrus Murder Case Arraignment Due Soon

BUCYRUS, April 3—John A. "Jack" Wilson, 61, self-confessed murderer of his common-law wife, Daisy, 57, will be arraigned before the Crawford County grand jury within the next few days, Prosecutor Leo Scanlon said today.

Wilson admitted, when questioned by the prosecutor Saturday morning at the county jail following his arrest at a Seneca county farm, Friday night, that he had killed his wife during a quarrel over another man on March 12, Mr. Scanlon reported. That date had been set by officials as the day the crime was committed when Wilson's case came before the grand jury last Tuesday. According to the evidence Wilson sold some household goods on March 13, and at this time the goods were removed from a shed at the rear of the house. He told officials that he and his wife had been quarreling for some time and that several months ago she had told him to "get out."

Boys' Secret Society in Michigan Probed

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, Mich. April 3—City Police disclosed today they were investigating a boys "secret society" whose "ritual," they said, required the members to wipe their feet on the American flag and stab the Bible with a knife.

Police Sgt. Fred Foster said a 16-year-old high school boy claimed leadership of the group of juveniles and that they called themselves "The State" and hoped to take control of the government within "15 or 20 years."

Foster said the boys circulated crude pamplets which attacked Negroes, Jews, capitalism, religion, and England.

Red Coupon Shower Solves Canteen Popcorn Problem

Service men and women going through Marion by train will receive their customary bags of popcorn, thanks to the generosity of scores of persons in Marion city, county and adjoining counties, Mrs. Eugene B. Willey, head of the Marion Canteen at the Union Station, said today.

OPA red coupons, good for rationed fats, have been literally showered upon the canteen since the predicament of the center was made known in an article in The Star several days ago. Lack of points for the procuring of fats in which to "pop" the treat, threatened cancellation of this particular refreshment for the service men and women going through here.

This morning Mrs. Willey said satisfactory arrangements had been made with state officials and that within a few weeks sufficient fats will be available to carry on the project. From now on, she stated, there will be no need for contribution of points.

"It is simply marvelous the way people have sacrificed their red points to see that the treat still goes in the baskets for the service men and women," Mrs. Willey said. Letters, accompanying the points, leave no doubt in anyone's mind that the men and women are first in the hearts of the donors, Mrs. Willey says. Letters bearing the ration stamps have been received in every mail and this morning the mail box at the Willey home was jammed. "To say that it will mean more to the soldiers than words can convey is putting it mildly, and what it has meant to the workers in knowing that the communities are with them in this particular wartime effort, is something not to be forgotten," Mrs. Willey said in telling of the generous response of the people. All the letters have heart-warming words and for many it means sacrifice. One letter told of a boy writing home telling how much the bag of popcorn he received as his contribution for Navy meeting means to him, and another told how a bunch of two men in service, who because of illness, were not able to do much active duty of war work, but who "could share the ration points."

Marion Steam Shovel Co. Returns To Local Control in Annual Meeting Today

Marion Men in Majority on Board of Directors As Result of Election at Stockholders Meeting.

By BOB BYRD

Management of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. returned to Marion hands today when the stockholders held their annual meeting.

To an extent not equalled since 1927 when eastern banking interests bought the company from its shareholders, Marion men are in a majority on the nine-man board of directors elected when the stockholders met in the company's offices at 11 a. m. today.

Today's election, anxiously awaited by officials and employes alike, followed an open controversy between two committees bidding for sufficient proxies to place a majority on the board.

The results: the proxy committee made up largely of Marion men and headed by Royal Little of Providence, R. I., placed six directors on the board. The New York banking interests were credited with three.

Marion men elected are J. Malcolm Strelitz, John P. Courtright, Carl F. LaMarche, Alex Gibson and Harvey T. Gracely. They and Mr. Little were the nominees backed by the local proxy committee.

The three directors elected today who were backed by the rival proxy committee headed by C. U. Bay of New York and Bridgeport, Conn., are Mr. Bay, Arnold Bernhard and R. G. Morehead, both of New York. Mr. Morehead was the only one of this group present at today's meeting.

The proxy dispute developed early this year and led to the rival committees sending detailed statements to the stockholders presenting arguments in favor of their rival slates of officers. The Marion committee acted first and, after the other group had answered, sent out a reply to allegations made by the eastern committee.

Mr. Strelitz, acting as chairman of the meeting today in the absence of Mr. Bay, who was reported ill and unable to attend, commented to the stockholders at the close of the meeting that it was hoped the proxy conflict, despite the sharp differences exchanged during the dispute, would have beneficial results so far as the general welfare of the company is concerned. Mr. Bay had been scheduled to preside today because of his position as chairman of the outgoing board of directors.

The new directors were scheduled to convene this afternoon, and interest ran high in the possibility that the directors yet today would name a new president and general manager to fill a vacancy that has existed since the death of D. J. Shelton last Nov. 23.

Large Proxy Vote

Approximately 50 persons attended the stockholders' meeting, an unusually large number. The voting, mostly by proxy, was heavy. Of the 95,195 shares of common stock whose holders were eligible to cast votes, 79,730 shares were voted. Of the 26,438 shares of preferred stock, 21,663 were voted.

After the election, Mr. Strelitz introduced Alex Gibson as the senior operating vice president, to comment on the business outlook and current problems. Mr. Gibson reported the company has a very substantial backlog of orders totaling approximately 12 million dollars. He said the principal problem to be dealt with are the manpower shortage, the possibility of contract terminations and renegotiation of excess profits, although he commented that so far as renegotiation is concerned the company has made generous provision for this.

When someone asked about possible reconversion problems after the war, Mr. Gibson said the fact the company's wartime products were largely the same type of machines produced in peacetime was expected to make reconversion a comparatively simple matter.

In answer to another question, he said the plant has not been modernized and is not modern to the extent it should be, explaining that plans for streamlining the operations, particularly with respect to production of small shovels, are being considered.

Committee Statement

In the proxy dispute, the Marion committee sent a statement to stockholders on Feb. 18, explaining there was "discussion and lack of harmony" among the members of the board and between the chairman of the board and other officers and key executives. It traced the recent developments in company's affairs up through the first quarterly meeting of directors in 1941 for which time Marion directors unanimously approved resolutions granting the then general manager and business operations over the company. Quote, the Marion statement, "It is the unanimous opinion of this committee that the company with its present management has been handled by the present [illegible] to individual control. You are entitled to sound, intelligent and impartial representation in the direction and management of your company and it is the aim and desire of this committee to see

British Naval Planes Score Hits on Last Nazi Battleship

Tirpitz, Hidden in Norway Fjord, Target of Aircraft, Presumably from Carrier.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April —British naval planes have scored several bomb hits on the Germans' most powerful battleship, the 35,000-ton Tirpitz, the admiralty announced today.

The Tirpitz was skulking in Norway's Alten fjord, the same spot where she was torpedoed by the royal navy's midget submarines last September.

The admiralty's announcement of multiple hits indicated a heavy attack on the biggest surviving unit of Hitler's all but vanished battlefleet. The attack presumably was carried out by carrier-based planes, possibly American-built.

Last previous reports on the Tirpitz said the Germans had been able to make only temporary repairs to the torpedo damage inflicted by the British midget submarines which stole into her hideaway last fall. The torpedo-carrying midgets, three of which were lost, were credited with causing underwater damage to the Tirpitz.

The brief admiralty communique did not give the date or other details of the plane attack.

The Tirpitz was the one great capital ship remaining in the German navy after the sinking of the 26,000-ton Scharnhorst last December.

Listed officially at 35,000 tons, the battleship is believed to be much heavier perhaps 45,000. Jane's Fighting Ships says the actual figure may be about 41,000 tons. It is 791 feet long, has a normal complement of 1,500 men and carries eight 15-inch guns, twelve 5.9 inch guns, and sixteen 4.1 inch guns.

But the Tirpitz has seen little action, its main value to the Germans lying in its grave potential threat to allied supply lines and to allied naval craft. Admiral Sir William James, chief of British naval information, last fall wrote both the Tirpitz and the 26,000-ton Gneisenau, sister-ship of the Scharnhorst off the active list for months to come. The Gneisenau was so badly hit by RAF bombs in July that she was reported to have been transformed into a training ship for German marines.

OPENING HOLY WEEK SERVICE HELD TODAY

150 Hear Noon Day Program at Marion Theater.

At the opening service of the noon-day Holy week observances today in the Marion theater approximately 150 persons heard Dr. R. H. Miller of Manchester college, Manchester, Ind., speak on the theme "Jesus Faces His Enemies." A double quartet from Harding High school directed by L. G. Jones presented two numbers and J. E. Ellis led congregational singing. Mrs. Virgil Curl presided at the piano. Rev. M. E. Fortner presided.

With the thought in mind that it was never the purpose of Christ to escape death, the speaker declared that, as his enemies closed around him he found time only for the purpose of "keeping the main issue so to who he was and what he stood for." "On the one hand," he said, "he was the evil power to subdue, the evil [illegible] of those enemies [illegible] a time [illegible]

COURT RULES NEGRO ELIGIBLE TO VOTE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—The supreme court ruled today that Negroes have the right to vote in a Texas Democratic primary to nominate candidates for congress.

Justice Reed delivered the 8-1 decision, which was of far-reaching importance in those southern states where the choice at a primary is usually equivalent to election.

Justice Roberts dissented.

The majority opinion states that "the right to vote in such a primary for the nomination of candidates without discrimination by the state, like the right to vote in a general election, is a right secured by the Constitution.

"By the terms of the 15th amendment that right may not be abridged by any state on account of race. Under our Constitution, the great privilege of choosing his rulers may not be denied a man by the state because of his color."

The case was brought by Lonnie E. Smith, Houston Negro, who was excluded from voting in a 1940 primary by the election judges of the 48th precinct of Harris county, Texas.

His attorneys contended that a 1935 supreme court decision, sustaining the exclusion of Negroes from a Texas primary, was "based on the theory that the right to participate in the Democratic primary is one of the privileges incidental to membership in the Democratic party of Texas and should not be confused with the right to vote."

ARMY OFFICERS GO ON TRIAL

Three Plead Innocent at Opening of Court Martial in Cincinnati.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 3 — Three Army air force officers pleaded innocent today before an 11-man general court martial, of charges of neglect of duty, conspiracy and false testimony in connection with airplane engine inspections at the Wright Aeronautical Corp. plant in suburban Lockland.

They are Lt. Col. Frank C. Greulich, former chief inspector for the AAF materiel command at Wright Field; Major Walter A. Ryan of Detroit, former materiel command district inspector, and Major William Bruckmann, Cincinnati, former resident inspector at the Wright Corp. plant.

Major Henry C. Clausen, trial judge advocate, summarized the charges against the three as 1—neglect of duty in inspection at the Wright plant; 2—alleged formation of a conspiracy among themselves and several civilians to let production override inspection so as to impair the quality of output of the Wright plant, and 3—giving false testimony to Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia, a member of the Truman war production investigating committee of the senate.

Col. Philip J. McCook, law member of the court, denied a defense motion for continuance made on grounds the defense had had less than five weeks to prepare its case. Major Clausen opposed defense motion for separate trials.

Defense counsel offered no peremptory challenges as the court opened but Major Clausen, heading the prosecution, challenged Col. Clarence E. Partridge of the office of chief of ordnance in Washington and Col. George W. Easterday, professor of military science at Lehigh university to reduce the original panel of 13 to 11.

Major Clausen also announced that the Army service force through the Fifth Service Command was trying the case at the request of the air forces to prevent possible bias or prejudice.

Major Bruckmann, first of the three named as the court opened, was charged with violating the 96th and 95th articles of war by conspiring with the other two defendants, Lt. Col. Greulich, former chief inspector at Wright Field and Major Ryan to defraud the United States by threatening and threatening to transfer air force inspectors for rendering decisions that engines and

MANY VILLAGES TAKEN, SOVIET REPORTS SAY

Moscow Disavows Any Aim of Seizing Any Part of Foreign Territory.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 3—The first Soviet military dispatch of the war from foreign territory reported today that the Red army was marching into Rumania after storming across the Prut river, established by agreement with Rumania as the boundary in 1940.

Numerous large and small Rumanian villages have been captured, Red army staffs already have followed the advance guard across the river and established headquarters on Rumanian soil, the Soviet war correspondent, Boris Polevoy, said in a telegram to Pravda.

The local population was reported giving the Red army a good reception and returning from hiding places to their homes.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav A. Molotov summoned foreign newspaper correspondents for his first press conference last night and announced the Red army had been given orders to "pursue the enemy until he is routed and capitulates."

He declared "the Soviet government states that it is not pursuing the enemy with the aim of seizing any part of Rumanian territory. Nor is the Soviet government's action aimed at the integrity of the existing social order in Rumania."

(Rumanian announcements indicated the Russians were 5 to 10 miles inside Rumania.)

Correspondents broke into spontaneous applause at the close of the conference.

After reading the statement Molotov agreed to answer questions but limited them to Rumania. He sidestepped most of the queries on the ground they were not connected with the Rumanian situation or were military.

He rapidly replied, however, Russia had no contact with the Rumanian government.

19 Miles from Odessa

Moscow also announced that other Russian forces had struck to within 19 miles of the great Black sea port of Odessa.

The Russian communique failed to identify the exact location of the several announced crossings of the Prut, but Berlin said the main Soviet drive into Rumania was in the last sector, less than 200 miles northeast of Bucharest and the Ploesti oil fields. Martial law has been proclaimed in Bucharest, Moscow dispatches reported.

Iasi, objective of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's second Ukrainian army, is 10 miles west of the Prut, and is a key Rumanian rail center where lines branch westward to Bucharest and northwestward to captured Czernowitz, 115 miles away. Gertsa, 20 miles southeast of Czernowitz on the north Rumanian border, was taken by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's first Ukrainian army yesterday.

A Rumanian high command communique broadcast by Berlin acknowledged the Red army's drive into Rumania proper, but said "north of Iasi at almost every point the enemy was pushed back over the Jijia river."

Drive Toward Hungary

The Jijia, north of Iasi, runs parallel to the Prut five miles to the west, and the Rumanian bulletin gave the first indication Konev's troops had advanced that far into Rumania.

Other divisions of Konev's army swept north to the Carpathian mountain passes leading into Hungary.

The communiques of Konev and Kuty, 27 miles northeast of Czernowitz, but not Berlin broadcasts, indicated Tarnopol and Kovel farther north in old Poland were going to capitulate.

Cpl. Gredlein took part in the African invasion and fought at Long Stop hill, Kasserine pass, Gafsa, Gabes and Mateur. His division fought almost constantly, stopping only long enough to get replacements for casualties On March 7, last year, he was struck by mortar and rifle fire, suffering wounds in the left ankle, left knee, left arm and stomach. He lay in drenching rain for 30 hours between the lines with enemy shells bursting close by. He has been a patient at Fletcher hospital since last July 4

Wounded In Italy

Pfc Wendt entered service in 1942 and received his basic training at Camp Pickett, Va. He was sent overseas on March 5, 1943, and was assigned to the 109th Medical battalion of the 34th regiment where he served as a medical aid. He saw service in the North African and Tunisian campaigns His outfit moved into Italy 10 days after the invasion and took part in mountain fighting south of Capriati. On Nov. 10, 1943, his unit was moving up with a tank destroyer unit which was spotted. The shell that hit them killed two of Wendt's companions and shattered two-thirds of his right leg He was removed to a receiving station where he was given two plasma injections and then evacuated to an auxillary field hospital where his leg was amputated. As soon as he receives an artificial limb Pfc. Wendt intends to become a member of the Army Specialized Service department, return overseas and so something for his pals who are still fighting

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

CHURCH AND THEATER

Editor of The Star: In reference to observance of Holy Week in a Marion theater, I cannot understand the motive. Consider the exhortation in Ps. 93:5, "Holiness becometh thine house O Lord..." (Can this be said to a theater?) while Prophet Micah instructs us to go to the house of God, and experience the joy of Ps. 122:1, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord," which must not be the experience of many today, else many churches would observe more than one worship service per week. Surely the cry of Neh. 13:11 rings clearly today, "Why is the house of God forsaken?"

Why? Could it be for a centralized location? With five churches in same locality? Or for adequate seating accommodation, while the same five churches have a seating capacity ranging from 2,000 to 750? Could it be the appointments of the theater are more conducive to a holy atmosphere, while our churches are designed for that purpose. Or that the messengers of God prefer the stage to the Holy place in the sanctuary to deliver a Holy week message? Why? What is the advantage?

Church: A collective body separated. The Greek word "ekklesia" rendered church, is derived from a word meaning "called out." A Christian church, according to the New Testament, is a company of persons divinely called out, separated from the world, divinely instituted to be the light of the world, the salt of the earth, and ordained for the Glory of God, commissioned to preach the Gospel. Since the church as a collective body, is just what its individual members are in their religious life, each member should strive to be in holy living, what he desires his church to be.

Individuals of church separate. Observe instruction James 1:27, "Pure religion and undefiled before God and Father is this. . . to keep himself unspotted from the world," while Paul exhorts us, Cor. 6:17, to "come out from among them, and be ye separate, ...touch not the unclean thing, while we are warned in Rom. 12:1, "Be not conformed to this world, 1 Thes. 5:22, "By abstaining from all appearance of evil," with James' warning, 4:4, "Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Who so ever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God," while 1 John 2:15 admonishes, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world the love of the Father is not in him."

And now hear plea of Paul, Eph. 5:6, 7, 8, "Let no man deceive you...because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience. Be not yet therefore partakers with them. ....Walk as children of light." According to 1 Cor. 6:14 to 18, "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship has righteousness with unrighteousness? And what communion hath light with darkness? What concord hath Christ with Belial (wickedness) Duet. 13:13.

Example, as individuals. "Ye are my witnesses. Ye are the light of the world. Be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in love, in spirit, in faith, in purity, till I come, give attendance to reading (study) to exortation, to doctrine." 1 Tim. 4:12 through 16. "Speak thou the things which become sound doctrine: In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, sound speech,....teaching us, that denying ungodliness, and worldly lusts we should live soberly, righteously and Godly, in this present evil world, that we can say with Paul, all things are lawful unto me, but all things are not profitable."

"Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend I will eat no flash," 1 Cor. 8:13.

Unmarried Women and Others Urge Drafting of WACs

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 3—One proposal to help solve the problem of finding more than a million persons for the military services by July 1 is that single women be drafted for non-combat jobs.

Such a move would meet with the approval of the vast majority of American voters. This is indicated by a nationwide survey which reveals that not only the great majority of voters throughout the country, but an almost equally large majority of the single women who would themselves be affected, are in favor of drafting single women between ages of 21 and 35 for non-combat jobs in the WACs in preference to taking married men with families.

The survey reveals further that large majorities in favor of taking single women first prevail in nine of the more populous states as well as in every section of the United States.

In measuring sentiment on the issue, the Institute asked voters in every one of the 48 states of the country to choose between the alternatives of calling up more fathers or drafting single women. The question is as follows:

"The Army can either draft 300,000 single women aged 21-35 for the WACs for non-fighting jobs, or it can draft the same number of married men with families for the same work. Which plan would you prefer?"

A comparison of the nation-wide results of today's survey with those of earlier surveys on the same question shows that so far as the great majority of American voters go, a draft of women for non-fighting jobs with the WACs could have been instituted months ago.

Learn something about your War Bonds from this fellow!

THE BEST THING a bulldog does is HANG ON! Once he gets hold of something, it's mighty hard to make him let go!

And that's the lesson about War Bonds you can learn from him. Once you get hold of a War Bond, HANG ON TO IT for the full ten years of its life.

There are at least two very good reasons why you should do this. One is a patriotic reason . . . the other a personal reason.

You buy War Bonds because you know Uncle Sam needs money to fight this war. And you want to put some of your money into the fight. But . . . if you don't hang on to those War Bonds, your money isn't going to stay in the battle.

Another reason you buy War Bonds is because you want to set aside some money for your family's future and yours. No one knows just what's going to happen after the War. But the man with a fistful of War Bonds knows he'll have a roof over his head and 3 square meals a day no matter what happens!

War Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 in 10 years. But, if you don't hang on to your Bonds for the full ten years, you don't get the full face value, and . . . you won't have that money coming in later on when you may need it a lot worse than you need it today.

So buy War Bonds . . . more and more War Bonds. And then keep them. You will find that War Bonds are very good things to have . . . and to hold!

This Is Where We Came In

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT explains, in permitting the so-called service vote bill to become law without his signature, that he thinks congress now should amend the law so every service voter who does not get a state ballot in time to vote should use one of the substitute federal ballots, instead.

This is where we came in. Mr. Roosevelt proposes that federal ballots be distributed in sufficient quantities to take care of all possible service voting needs; that it be made easy for service voters to cast these ballots in comparison with the longer state ballots; and that the federal ballots, regardless of any and all questions of constitutionality, should be counted —with responsibility for their legal defects passed on to the states, instead of to congress, where it would belong.

The President proposes, in effect, that the whole argument over service voting be reopened in congress. Validity of federal ballots was the main issue. The failure of congress to comprehend that it was going entirely out of its field in attempting legislation on a subject reserved to the states produced a long-winded debate, a muddled bill, a vast deal of needless confusion and more bitter antagonism than even this nation can afford to indulge in wartime. The whole procedure was full of politics to the last drop—and Mr. Roosevelt has made sure that the last drop wasn't wasted

The Driblets Grew and Grew

THE new excise tax rates, including what amounts to the 50 per cent tax on first class local mail and the other postal increases, are supposed to yield at least a billion dollars over and above the yield from previous rates. If the estimate proves accurate, the yield will be just about double the action excise tax yield in the fiscal year 1942.

Due to the classic rule that taxes paid in driblets are not resented, the wartime boost in excise taxes is the least noticed of all—much less conspicuous, for example, than the rise in income tax rates. This suggests that in the tax-makers' lexicon the higher rates now in existence on the miscellaneous goods and services in the excise yield already are established as part of the permanent revenue vocabulary.

Americans always have looked with misgivings on tax practices abroad which restricted enterprise, such as high automotive taxes in Europe making general use of motor vehicles prohibitively expensive. Yet, on the assumption that excise taxes here will go much higher than they are now and will remain there as the inevitable result of an unchecked rate of public spending, it may be time to wonder what may happen here eventually as the excise driblets grow year by year until finally they no longer can be ignored but must be accommodated within individual incomes—which never grow half so fast as the tax demands made on them.

Japan Tries Appeasement

SAKHALIN island, which was split between Russia and Japan under United States auspices in the Treaty of Portsmouth in 1905, is the scene of an apparent act of appeasement of Russia by Japan. The latter's abandonment of its coal and oil leases in the Russian half of the island, apparently with nothing granted in return except a small cash consideration and a promise of oil after the war, looks like a direct yielding to pressure.

There is, of course, no way of knowing what pressure Russia may have used, but Sakhalin's geographic situation may be a clue. The island, approximately the size of West Virginia, is the northernmost of three large islands, two of which constitute Japan proper; the northern, or Russian, half of Sakhalin logically would be included in Japanese territory. It is, in other words, of primary strategic importance in the defense of Japan.

Conversely, it is also of primary strategic importance in whatever plans ultimately may be developed for the climactic attack on Japan. The fact the Japanese are leaving the Russian half of Sakhalin, while by no means conclusive, still is evidence that Russia's diplomatic realism is at work in Asia as well as in Europe. It looks as though the Japanese had been given a new problem in guesswork to ponder. Whatever goes on in the northern half of Sakhalin from now on is for Russia to know and Japan to find out.

News Behind the News

Communists Believed To Have Dominated American Labor Party Vote in New York.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Often the charge is made that Communists have done such and such whereas the culprits are really only bewildered radicals, lunatic fringers or even socialists who hate the Communists worse than true Democrats.

But of the American labor party results in New York, the charge is puristically accurate.

You can go through the returns precinct by precinct and prove the wail of defeated elements that their party was captured by Communists. Certain city areas are known to have long been Communist-controlled, and those undeniably furnished the complete victory of the Hillman faction.

Also, the Hillman Communist faction has long been credited with 85,000 to 100,000 votes, and these they got.

The Communists won because they have better discipline. Less than half the registered voters of ALP went to their party polls in New York city. The Commies were a minority of a minority, but they got out their vote and seized control.

ALP Due To Fade

This being the incontestable result, the most authoritative sources have concluded that Mr. Roosevelt and particularly Mayor LaGuardia, will be the main sufferers—and the ALP will now rapidly lose its importance and become inconsequential.

Labor already has moved out in bulk and returned to the Democratic and Republican parties. AFL and John Lewis are now definitely anti-Communist, and CIO must now follow this trend.

David Dubinsky (garment workers) was Hillman's opponent in the primary, and already has left Hillman holding the Communist sack.

To control any movement, Communists must keep their leadership secret or confused. Once they identify themselves with controls in this country, they become an ineffective minority.

G.O.P. To Cash In

But meanwhile the Republicans will capitalize on these events for the coming fourth term campaign and charge that the Communists promoted it as they initially fostered petitions to the White House, etc. They can cause considerable embarrassment at least, because of Hillman's White House connections and his assertions of fourth term leadership.

The result, however, practically willed the Little Flower. Unlike the bulk of labor, Mayor LaGuardia compromised. He did not withdraw as they did, but pronounced himself neutral. He might as well have proclaimed himself neutral between God and the devil—or between right and wrong.

On the face of these facts, it is not too much to conclude that the most formidable third party labor movement yet presented in this country—one which wielded a balance of power in the election of state and national officials in the nation's largest state—is now dead.

Oklahoma Results

True meaning of the somewhat surprising Oklahoma special election result was lost in Democratic jubilation and Republican silence. It simply suggested the Democrats can win if they offer the best man.

Their candidate for the congressional seat (which they have held for years by generally top-heavy majorities) was a former state commander of the American Legion, and the more popular man. The Republican candidate had been to the same well once before, and ran close to victory then solely because the Democrat who then held the seat had become personally unpopular, even subsequently giving up his congressional career by resigning rather than trying to run again.

Various Explanations

Some have attributed the outcome to the Democrats pouring in Senator Barkley and promises of some war plants (the district had received few) while others conversely claim the closer-than-normal Republican race was due to the Republicans pouring in some money.

Far more important was the fact that the Democrats had the assistance of a state machine and counties machines, which nearly always can wield dominant power in special elections where the general run of people do not go to the trouble of voting. (Again witness ALP in New York.)

Quit Bothering Farley

The O'Connell brothers, (Albany machine), who publicly threatened to climb up Jim Farley's back, soon climbed down again. The stories that they were inspired by Mr. Roosevelt's inside political manager, David K. Niles, may have gone a little too far. Apparently, there had been some inside talk from Niles about getting Farley out, but no demand for action.

Most accurate explanation is that some Albany boys had been imbibing some cough medicine, now rare, the day they gave out that story and were slightly tipsy.

The administration cannot afford to anger Farley's friends around the country in a fourth term year.

Letters To Service Men

Tell the Truth, Girls Are Advised by Screen Star.

By JANE COCHRAN
International News Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 3—The postman, with the active cooperation of the Army and Navy is perfectly willing to act as go between for a girl and her service man.

But while he delivers the letters, he can't write them—and it's the contents that count, declared singing star Benay Venuta.

"Be natural in your letters," the stage, screen and radio singer advised. "But don't be an artificial, cheerful, little earful. Tell the truth generally about everyday small tribulations. If the milkman forgot to deliver milk for two days, mention it. If you enjoyed a motion picture, say so."

Follows Own Advice

Miss Venuta based her views on more than 400 visits to army camps, naval bases and service hospitals since Pearl Harbor. She has traveled more than 75,000 miles in the United States in the work. The wife of a naval lieutenant, she follows her own advice in writing to him, telling of her work, home and their three-year-old daughter, Patricia.

"Many women have the impression that the best thing to do in writing to their men in service, whether in this country or abroad, is to be cheerful, full of good, happy, joyful, and pleasant news above all other considerations," Miss Venuta said.

"These girls feel that the boys are going through hell, that they are not having it easy no matter how you look at it, and therefore that they, in letter writing, should be full of gaiety, even thought it be false, phoney and definitely artificial.

Want News of Home

"I definitely disagree with that theory," she declared. "I honestly believe that what the men in the camps and the fighting fronts want is news of home, legitimate everyday humdrum run-of-the-mill routine news.

"It doesn't always have to be good, and it doesn't have to be hot news," she went on. "For example, if the radio went wrong and has been fixed, mention it. If you saw a good movie, talk about it. If you thought it was terrible, say so.

"Don't talk generalities alone. Don't write only that you miss him, can't wait until you meet again. That only emphasizes the ache in his heart and it's something he knows he can't immediately do anything about. Don't be gloomy.

"Give him nice, pleasant, gossipy news of neighbors, of mutual friends, of relatives, gossip of the non-malicious sort, of course."

The man who's far away wants to know the woman he left behind loves him and wants her to be happy. But he wants that happiness to be real and the letters to reflect real feeling, not artificial cheerfulness.

"Your man, no matter where he is, wants to hear from you often," Miss Venuta concluded, "and the link to home is so much stronger when it is based on fact, not fiction."

Minority Groups and U. S. Foreign Policy

Nationality Blocs Can Exert Pressure in Election Year.

PART of the hesitancy in taking strong positions in foreign policy matters which is being criticized by commentators as a serious weakness of the Roosevelt administration may be due to the political importance of national minorities in the United States.

These minorities are prepared to exert heavy pressures in an election year, especially in the large cities where the Democratic party strength tends to lie. Big blocs of votes might be lost by decisions on matters of interest to nationality groups in Democratic strongholds.

In its current issue United States News discusses the precarious position of the Irish vote when this government asked Eire to throw out Axis diplomats. While this was justified as a measure of national security, it nevertheless was viewed more narrowly by many American voters with Irish sympathies.

In like manner, the treatment of the Badoglio government in Italy is connected directly with the political convictions of the large Italian population in the United States. Poles look with suspicion on Russia. Finns are vitally interested in their native country's fate.

Fifty million persons, declares United States News, fall into the minority groupings of race, culture and national origins in this land of minorities. Of this amazingly large total, 34,500,000 were born in other countries, or were born in this country of foreign parentage. Many of these read foreign newspapers, speak a foreign language and live more closely to their native cultures than to their American environments. They are open to pressure impacts from abroad and emotionally disturbed by nuances in foreign matters that other Americans are not even aware of.

In some cases their governments-in-exile are using them to create public opinion pressures. Their affinities are so numerous and so intertwined that it is virtually impossible to conceive of all the possibilities of political opinion that might be roused in them by foreign policy decisions.

UNITED States News explains that New York, the biggest political prize of all the 48 states, has a larger collection of persons of mixed foreign origins, than any other area in the world — half again as many Irish as Dublin; more Italians than Rome, half as many Poles as Warsaw, four times as many Jews as Palestine and large minorities of every other nation.

Buffalo is heavily populated with persons of Polish parentage. New York state as a whole has 670,000 of Irish Free State ancestry, 1,500,000 of Italian parentage, 688,000 of Polish descent and 2,000,000 of the nation's 4,700,000 Jews.

The Irish are a strong intluence in Massachusetts, where they are the largest group of foreign descent. There are importantly large groups of Irish, also, in California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Maryland Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin. As a group, the Irish tend to be more Democratic than Republican in politics. While they do not seem opposed as a whole to a stronger policy toward Eire, it is only reasonable to suppose that nothing will be done by a Democratic administration to give them gratuitious offense.

The Italians, strongly Catholic like the Irish, are important minority groups in New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island and the "solid south" state of Louisiana. They are strongly opposed to the Badoglio government, which no doubt makes the Roosevelt administration no more eager to offend them by giving that government the recognition Russia recently has given it.

ANOTHER voting influence discussed by United States News is the German ancestry group in the middle west, where isolation sentiment runs strongest. While it is not believed that they are deficient in any respect in loyalty to the United States—a million and a half returned to Germany during the years in which Hitler was preparing to fight — their way of thinking is inevitably influenced by their ties with Europe.

Swedes and Norwegians are numerically important enough in many cities to have political weight. There is a large Russian minority in New York. Rumanians are important in New York and Ohio. Yugoslavs are spread through Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Minnesota and West Virginia. Greeks are numerically important in New York and Massachusetts. Czechs, Lithuanians and Mexicans are other national groups considered politically important.

"They reflect the divergent views to which the administration is trying to fit a foreign policy," say United States News. "And the minority groups are likely to decide the November election."

Food Arsenal

Associated Press Features

LONDON — Keeper of one of the largest arsenals for the invasion of Europe is U. S. Maj. Gen. R. M. Littlejohn, who does not have to worry about his ammunition exploding.

Gen. Littlejohn's particular worry is emergency food rations K, C and D, which the ordinary soldier will carry along with helmet and gun when he hits the continent's beaches. This sandy-haired big chief quartermaster knows everything there is to know about Army feeding — and never forgets the traditional privilege of every soldier to gripe about the chow.

As a former infantry battalion commander who has been at both extremes of the chow line, he knows that under barracks lights when soldiers write letters, nine out of 10 mention supper. The general also knows that chow "swell" or "lousy," is a morale factor that has no exact parallel anywhere in military life.

That's why, although he's justly fond of emergency rations, Gen. Littlejohn's ideal is to get the soldier off them and back to traditional food at the earliest moment. Actually, his storepiles of K, C and D will be clock symbols of our invasion progress —when the troops stop eating them it will mean that the first shock assault has been carried, that the bridgehead is in, and that our position is secure enough to warrant bringing up the field kitchens.

Army's Junkmen

Report Shows Salvage Corps in Italy Saving Millions from Italy's Battlefield Debris.

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, April 3—The Army Quartermaster Corps headquarters here has a little division of which it's very proud.

Its members never make the headlines although they sometimes are killed or wounded. The only medals they get are those they pick up. They are the battlefield junkmen.

Maj. Eckhardt R. Keller has just reported here on the activities in Italy of the 230th QM Salvage Collecting Company. It's a company of 211 officers and men, under the command of Capt. Harris North, and while the War Department is spending billions here, they are saving the taxpayers millions on the battlefields in Italy.

They really are the Army's junkmen and they don't mind the title. Any army on the move in battle throws stuff away right and left. Everything its own. A canteen is punctured. Throw it away and grab one from a dead buddy's hand. A machine gun is knocked galley-west by a near miss. The detail dashing in as replacement carries its own. A canteen is punctured. Throw it aside. Packs and kits are dropped or blown away.

IT'S the 230th's job to see that none of this is lost. Its job is to see that all this is salvaged, repaired immediately and put back in service. There isn't only the saving on articles salvaged, there's the saving on valuable shipping space.

Considerable co-operation is obtained by the salvage company from the fighting units as they move back from the lines and have rested up. It's one of their duties to collect the junk and turn it in to the salvage warehouse.

Then the real job of Capt. North, who used to be a lawyer here, and his company begins, the job of mopping up. The whole area over which the Army has passed is plotted and section by section, house by house, village by village, it is scoured for things left behind.

Natives are found wearing uniforms. Off they come. Gasoline tins and oil drums are dug out of the mud and out of cellars. The company has salvaged seven runaway barrage balloons; Russian field telephones and radios, left by the Germans (for the unit salvages enemy material too); 18,520 mosquito bars in a little more than two weeks; 13,223 pairs of underdrawers in the same period; $48,000 worth of shoes—to mention only a few items.

AFTER cleaning, sterilizing and minor repairs 60 per cent of it is back in service within a few hours. Thirty per cent more can be put back into service after major repairs. About ten per cent goes to the scrap heap.

Salvaged shoes are the only things not reissued to our own troops. Those go to the prisoners of war or are turned over to AMG to help in their problems of rehabilitating conquered areas.

In one average month, reports Maj. Keller, Capt. North's little band salvaged a shade less than a million dollars worth of material. The Army's junkmen are doing all right.

First Things First

By Truman Twill

Its all right for forward-lookers to keep needling us into wanting grocery stores on wheels, automobiles with glass tops and electronics every whipstitch after the war, but what about improvements on the stuff we already have?

For example—to mention something close at hand—what are they doing about suspenders and suspender buttons? For generations, men have been holding up their pants with suspenders, but what accounts for the fact that at the minute thousands of us are at large under the handicap of missing suspender buttons?

And how do they explain shoestrings, which have been in use every since button shoes went out of style about the time of the other war yet have been so sadly neglected by Science and Progress that at any given minute 30 per cent of all the shoes in use are laced with knotted strings?

The history of the night shirt and its younger brother, the pajama, is lost in antiquity, yet after centuries the night shirt still creeps up on the wearer and wads in a bunch, while the pajama is still calculated to truss up an acrobat sleeper like Houdini escaping from a trunk.

In defiance of all modern designing, children's clothing for winter continues to be the modern counterpart of the one-man top on the primitive automobile, which called for the efforts of no less than two men to do anything with it. Why can't children's winter clothing be made so a child can get into it and out of it?

And has anyone been giving serious thought to a bathtub that will fill itself automatically with water at the right temperature and turn itself off when the water reaches the right level? Or a shower with a thermostatic control on the mixer so an over-confident bather won't scald himself?

As long as home improvements are being mentioned, how about taking the old-fashioned fireplace and fixing it so it can be cleaned up, reloaded with fuel and hoisted back into place without making all that clutter in the living room? And what about putting electric switches on the floor so they can be flipped on and off with a toe, instead of keeping them up on the wall where a householder with both hands full has to get one hand free before he can do anything about them?

The forward-lookers are stimulating our imagination and firing up our demands for a brave new world, all right, but if they really want to start something they will make a window shade that won't go brrrrt and fly up when it is supposed to stay down.

So They Say—

There is no reason why we should not enter a period of prosperity following the war, if there is not too long a lag between the end of hostilities and the resumption of volume production for peace.—Charles E. Wilson, president General Motors.

We've waited an awful long time for this. I am nervous. Sure, I am. But we do not talk about that too much. We talk about women and when we are going home.—Pvt. Frank Cacciatore in Italy, about to enter first combat.

We must open a "third front" against juvenile crime here at home, which unchecked may lead to a serious era of adult lawlessness in the future and undermine that security we are now fighting to protect.—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Russians Refute Nazi Claim by Invading Rumania

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The big news of the day is that Russian troops are actually on Rumanian soil, not only because of its military importance but because it provides strong evidence that the German-inspired report that when the Russians had driven the enemy from their territory they would halt on the frontier and let the rest of the world fight it out with the axis. Of course one swallow doesn't make a summer, and invasion of Rumania doesn't necessarily mean the end of Germany. Still, Moscow said it certainly is headed for Berlin and there's no reason to doubt it.

The Soviet government has made a shrewd move in announcing that it has no intention of annexing Rumanian territory but is there merely by military necessity. This is calculated to induce the Rumanians to lay down their arms, and it can't help but have a military effect on a population ripe for weeks has been awaiting the approach of Red troops.

Held in War By Fear

The same thing can be said of Bulgaria. Both these countries have been held in the war only through fear inspired by the presence of German troops on their soil. They are likely to slip from under Hitler's domination as soon as he is forced to relax his military grip on their throats.

The Russians appear to be driving to block the Carpathian passes on the right wing of their advance, and to be making their main thrust towards Iasi (Jassy), an important railway junction on the route towards the Danubian delta and the Ploesti oil fields. If the Germans and Rumanians intend to make a fight of it, their resistance will be shown almost immediately.

One of the great dramas of the war is unfolding in the Odessa area of the southern Ukraine. The onrushing Reds are almost within sight of that important Black sea port. Meantime the axis forces are reported to be carrying out demolitions in Odessa which incidentally was one of the handsomest cities in all Russia. This means the Nazis are preparing for evacuation. However, it doesn't necessarily signify that they won't defend the town stubornly. An undetermined number of axis troops—perhaps as many as 200,000—are in danger of being cut off in the Odessa zone, and they won't submit easily.

Finland Still Wavering

While all this is going on at the southern end of the Russian front, another event of vast importance is reported from the extreme north. Finland is said in Stockholm to be considering an offer of milder peace terms from Russia. Unofficial dispatches say Moscow is offering to let the Finns keep the Hangoe peninsula and the city of Viborg—a matter of moment to Helsinki—withdrawal of Finland from the war at this crucial juncture would be a boon to the allies.

This is one of the tense moments of the war, as we hang on the unfolding of the great Russian onslaught, and await the coming of the allied invasion of western Europe. Fuehrer Hitler and his people must be enduring a strain comparable with that under which the allies labored during the awful hours of Dunkerque.

We see a measure of the Hitlerian tension in the feverish preparations of the Nazis to meet the gathering storm in the west, while fighting for their very lives in the east. The widespread flooding of Holland in itself speaks loudly of nerves. The Germans wouldn't have gone to this extreme unless they thought the final test of strength was close.

There's one thing we should bear in mind in assaying the position. It's possible the Nazis may get a breathing spell on the Russian front, due to the spring mud. We can't tell yet for this has been an exceptional season, but it certainly seems possible that the Red drives may be vastly slowed down shortly for a month or so.

JAPAN SEES DOOM, GENERAL DECLARES

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 3—Field Marshal Sir John Dill, senior British officer on the combined allied chiefs of staff in Washington, said here today that "the Japanese already see plainly the writing on the wall" and the "end for them is clearly in view."

Flanked by highest ranking British and American officers who had come here to see him receive the degree of doctor of laws from the college of William and Mary, Sir John promised that the war against Japan would be pressed forward after Germany's defeat.

"As we fight hand in hand to destroy our German enemy," he said in an address at the convocation, "so shall we fight on together to destroy the Japanese, however long and difficult the road may be."

Russia Confers With Britain on Rumania

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 3—Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov's statement announcing the advance of the Russian armies into Rumania and disclaiming Soviet territorial ambitions was made "after consultation and agreement with the British government" it was disclosed in London today.

The foreign commissar's statement was authoritatively described as "of the greatest importance" by a foreign office commentator who added, "I rather think it also had the approval of the American government."

Bank in Liquidation

By The Associated Press

SOMERSET, Pa.—Police would like to find out who owns the Somerfield bank building and who has been stealing it brick by brick. The building, condemned last fall by the government for a flood control project, was sold to a man who took out the plumbing and electric fixtures. Further wrecking rights were purchased by a club which removed about half the brick for its new clubhouse before winter set in. Ready to continue the razing, members found someone had taken all the marble slabs. Then it was discovered that the government contract stipulated all salvage had to be within 30 days.

Long List of Woes on Slate When Congress Ends Holiday

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Despite an absent congress, prime Washington and national issues today are those of the home front. And when congress returns from its holiday recess it will find itself faced with the problems of taxes, veterans' benefits, subsidies, price control, military draft policies and sundry other headaches.

Simplification of the tax structure has been urged by all quarters and probably will be undertaken by congress immediately. Among other issues to be probed by the legislators is the "G. I." veterans' benefits bill, under which returning service men would receive unemployment compensation, job priorities, educational opportunities and financial assistance from the government.

These questions, and others, point to a busy spring and summer for senate and house alike.

Politics

But overshadowing these, and regardless of the recess, politics continues to grow in importance and eyes are on tomorrow's Republican primary in Wisconsin. Wendell L. Willkie has termed the election "vital," but some other Republicans feel the results may be inconclusive with Willkie receiving some of the 24 delegates, and others going to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York. Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, and Gen. MacArthur.

Meanwhile, Willkie, asked by Frederick E. Schluter, Trenton, N. J., industrialist and G.O.P. convention delegate candidate, if he would support the Republican candidate named at the convention if he (Willkie) failed to get it, replied:

"It is inconceivable to me that the Republican national convention will be so stupid as to nominate anyone that the millions of people who believe as I do could not as a matter of conscience support."

Developments on the Democratic side are highlighted currently by the resignation of Harry H. Woodring, as chairman and member of the American Democratic National committee. The former secretary of war in President Roosevelt's cabinet said many anti-administration Democratic leaders "appear too timid, politically and economically, to stand up and be counted."

O'Bannon

A presidential unit citation today went to the destroyer U. S. S. O'Bannon, called the "Little Helena" because of her fighting resemblance to "one of the fightingest men-o'-war that ever scoured the seas. The O'Bannon has taken a heavy toll of Japanese fighting ships. Her similarly honored skipper, Commander Donald J. MacDonald, who has won more decorations during this war than any other naval officer, attributes the O'Bannon's success to just one thing—"the magnificent work of my crew."

Labor Turnover

War Manpower Commissioner McNutt says that labor turnover—a condition often mentioned in arguments for a national service law—is not as bad in most munitions industries as it was a year ago. Of 18 munitions industries listed by McNutt, 14 showed a decrease in the "separation rate" during 1943.

Allies' Invasion Ferry Chief

Associated Press Features

SIR BERTRAM RAMSAY, tall, spare commander-in-chief of Allied naval units for the invasion of Europe, is perhaps the world's foremost expert on planning vast sea expeditions. He served with Britain's Naval War College and the Imperial Defense College before becoming rear admiral and chief of staff of the home fleet in 1935.

DARE-DEVIL—Sir Bertram took to sea early, entering the Royal Navy at 15. Aboard a destroyer in World war I, he had charge of the famed Dover command. He built a reputation for daring with the dawn patrol. He retired from service in 1938.

DYNAMO — World war II brought him back in uniform to patrol his old beat at the Dover straits. Here he directed the masterful Dunkerque evacuation which won him honor as a Knight Commander of the Bath and nickname "Dunkerque Dynamo."

DESIGNER—Ramsay then went to work on a design for victory, mapped the sea-borne invasion of North Africa that drew praise from Eisenhower, and the assault on Sicily. Now he is at work on the last sketch in that design, the European invasion.

SCHOOL CAGE TEAMS OF COUNTY HONORED

Ensign from O. W. U. Gives Talk at Banquet.

Members of basketball teams, coaches and superintendents of County schools attended an all-county athletic banquet Saturday night at Waldo High school. The banquet was the first group event ever held by county schools to honor all 12 teams at one time.

Ensign M. T. Robinson, assistant athletic director for the Navy V-12 students at Ohio Wesleyan university, spoke on "The Secret Weapon." He said the "secret weapon" of America is the ability of its citizens to meet problems individually and solve them sensibly. He explained that basketball can teach boys this fundamental quality since players who abide by a set form will not be able to meet others who think out each situation as it is met and are able to make more of their opportunities by being able to think individually.

An award for sportmanship displayed in playing was presented to Martel school by D. T. Mills, superintendent of County schools.

Clyde Forry, superintendent of Waldo school, led group singing. Dinner was served by the P.-T. A. of Waldo school.

SEE SILVER LINING IN DAD DRAFT CLOUD

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—One silver lining appeared in the father-draft clouds today as income tax experts calculated that many draftee dads would be eligible for a windfall of "folding money" in addition to their mustering-out pay.

These experts found that many fathers would get back the major part of the money withheld by their employers for income tax purposes—provided they enter the armed services by around July 1.

And resultant windfall probably will be returned by the government by mid-1945.

When the family man goes into the Army, his military pay is nontaxable unless it amounts to more than $1,500 a year. Money paid his family as government allowance is considered a gift and therefore non-taxable.

Consequently, the father entering by July 1 will have received in civilian money—or taxable pay—only half as much as he ordinarily would make in a year.

But he has had income tax money withheld by his employer at the rate of what he was expected to make in a whole year.

Frequently the taxable income left will be about even with or only slightly above the man's ordinary personal exemptions and deductions—indicating a major part of the witholding tax will have to be returned.

RUSSIANS CHARGE BORDER VIOLATION

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 3 — The official Soviet news agency Tass declared yesterday that Chinese troops from Sinkiang had violated the border of the Mongolian Peoples Republic and that Chinese planes bombed towns and villages and strafed Kazakhs fleeing from Sinkiang.

The dispatch said government leaders of the Mongolian Peoples Republic were convinced that if other violations occurred the Soviet government would be asked to render aid needed to correct the situation.

The dispatch quoted "well informed sources" as saying that Sinkiang authorities began a forced evacuation of Kazakhs from the Altai mountain district to the southern districts of Sinkiang at the end of last year.

Many of the families did not want to move, however, and fled into the Mongolian republic to hide, the dispatch said, adding that Chinese troops then began chasing them and that Chinese planes violated the border, bombing towns and villages and shooting at the people.

Soldiers of 37th Leave Foxholes To Go Over Top in Bond Drive

(This story, written by an Army correspondent and distributed by The Associated Press, tells how men in Ohio's 37th division responded quickly and generously during the recent war bond campaign).

* * *

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION ON BOUGAINVILLE, March 2—(Delayed)—A foxhole-to-foxhole war bond drive quickly was oversubscribed by men of Ohio's 37th division.

No special inducements such as marked the campaigns back home were tried or needed. The word was passed along that here was another way a good soldier could serve his country. And when the boys came out of their foxholes and lined up at the pay table they turned back a large portion of their earnings for war bonds.

Ohio infantrymen passed the regimental quota of $44,000 set for them in the campaign by $20,050.

A 200 per cent of quota mark was easily set within a few days of the opening of the drive in not less than three rifle companies largely composed of northern Ohio's first men to enter the federal service.

Represent Northern Ohio

Now augmented by men from every state in the union, the regiment still lists slightly better than half of its men as being from Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Ashtabula, Steubenville, Ashland, Norwalk, Shreve, East Liverpool and other northern Ohio towns.

The purchases were voluntary. Their commanding officer, Colonel Whitcomb, of Cleveland, in a memorandum to the regiment, had stated:

"I want to impress upon you that you are not being forced to participate in this program. I am merely explaining the benefits and affording you the opportunity of entering a savings plan in which I am deeply interested."

For Uncle Sam it meant taking money from one pocket and putting it in another; for each subscriber it was an investment in the future. He was laying his money on the line, confident of his ability and certain of the future.

Each man was given an opportunity of buying a bond every three months by a monthly payroll deduction plan, or of buying any size bond outright in cash. More than half the men in the regiment bought bonds; 1414 will buy $48,575 worth of bonds every three months.

Buy from Small Pay

Underlined should be the fact that the men were combat infantrymen. They were buying bonds from what little is left after insurance and allotments had been deducted from their pay. Pay which in most cases amounted to the $80 a month of an overseas private.

Foxholes and parapets, blood plasma and medical aid, guns and ammunition, rain and sweat have become [illegible] in these men.

Theirs might have been interpreted as a selfish purchase, for they know that each dollar may mean one less life lost, one less man wounded, one less day the war itself will last. They know war.

The Ohio infantrymen from among the vines and tall trees of Bougainville have certainly set an example for those at home to follow. And they pride themselves in that they and their regiment hold one more first in the inevitable triumph.

BIG BILL'S MONEY STILL A MYSTERY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—The mystery of where William Hale Thompson—"Big Bill the Bilder" who served three terms as Chicago's mayor—got that $1,166,250 currency hoard found in two safety deposit boxes after his death remained unsolved today. Two more boxes await investigation later in the week.

Thompson's attorney, James W. Breen, said he believed there was more money to be found, possibly $1,000,000, and suggested that Thompson, before the 1929 crash, had converted his stock holdings into cash to put away against the hypothetical rainy day.

Breen asserted Thompson then sold nearly $2,000,000 worth of Middle West Utilities stock—the Insull firm — and stowed the money away.

In 1915, when Thompson became mayor for the first time, he sold 10,000 shares of Commonwealth Edison worth $123 per share, or a total of $1,230,000. He told associates then he did not want to be listed as a stockholder while serving as mayor.

When he died three years ago, Thompson estate was valued at only about $150,000, and no will has been found yet.

PRISONER AT KENTON FILES COURT MOTION

Confessed Slayer Seeks Discharge from Custody.

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., April 3—Richard Knight, 38-year-old confessed slayer of Loyal W. Bean, Dunkirk grocer, 10 years ago, today started in earnest his battle for freedom with a formal motion demanding his discharge from custody on the grounds that he has been held in jail more than nine years without trial and "for more than two terms of this court" after his arrest and commitment on a first degree murder indictment.

Knight, recently freed from Ohio penitentiary by the Second appellate court at Columbus under habeas corpus proceedings which brought fourth a ruling that an Ohio judge might not sentence a confessed slayer for first degree murder without trial by jury or three-judge court, is represented by Attorneys E. B. Wetherill and William B. Price.

The prosecution, represented by Prosecutor Rex. W. Hanna and Attorney Harry I. Kaylor, who was prosecuting attorney at the time of the Bean murder, is attempting to have Knight held on the 10-year-old indictment without rearraignment.

A hearing on the discharge motion was heard by Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Tudor Saturday, and decision reserved. Testifying in court were former Sheriff Wilbur Mitchell, former Clerk of Courts Ray Patterson, and Attorney Paul T. Mahon who aided former Prosecutor Kaylor in trial of Ben S. Curl, jointly indicted for first degree murder with Knight and Glen Neal.

Curl was found guilty of first degree murder by a jury which recommended mercy. He is serving a life term in Ohio penitentiary for the hold-up slaying of the Dunkirk businessman, enroute home with the day's receipts at the time of the murder.

Neal, who turned state's evidence, was permitted to plead guilty of manslaughter, serving a term in Mansfield reformatory and now is free. Knight pleaded guilty as indicted and was sentenced by ex-Judge Hamilton E. Hoge who heard the evidence but did not call in two other judges to aid him in weighing facts and reaching a decision. He recommended mercy and sentenced Knight to serve a life term in Ohio penitentiary.

BRITISH PLANTS HIT BY STRIKE

Coal Shortage Reduces Production of Arms for Invasion of Europe.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 3—British war factories, engaged in turning out equipment for the impending European invasion, faced a possible sharp drop in production today as the government ordered a general cut in power supplies because of strike-induced coal shortages.

With fuel stocks dwindling rapidly as the result of miners' strikes estimated to have cost the nation 2,000,000 tons of coal in the last month, the fuel ministry directed that electric supplies be curtailed 10 per cent and gas 25 per cent.

Every factory in the country—including 10,000 rushing war material—was affected by the order.

The government announced that public transportation in northwest England would be reduced 20 per cent in a further effort to save power.

The war cabinet was giving urgent consideration to the situation, characterized in some quarters as the worst labor crisis since the general strike of 1926.

Although several Yorkshire miners' local unions voted yesterday to return to the pits, fewer than 5,000 of the 90,000 men idle in the area reported for work this morning. The dispute there centered around a 40-cent weekly charge, assessed against the miners for household coal which they previously had received free, before their wages were boosted an average of about $3.40 per week.

Union leaders, who have denounced the strike and pleaded with the men to return to work, reported another 250,000 miners in South Wales, Scotland, North Umberland and Lancasnire—Britain's most important pits—were in a restless mood over the government's four-year stablization plan on which the men are voting this week.

The plan gives the miners a guaranteed minimum of $20 a week for underground workers and $18 for surface workers, plus an additional piece rate.

Ohio Flier Bags Enemy Plane with Extra Gas Tank

By The Associated Press

HEADQUARTERS OF THE 15TH AIR FORCE IN ITALY, April 3 — A "chance in a million" hit in which he knocked out the enemy with a gas tank instead of a gun brought Lt. Robert Paul Zirkle of Venedocia, Van Wert County, O., his first victory over a Nazi fighter plane.

Zirkle, who has been on 47 missions over enemy territory in a P-38 was on weather reconnaizzance last Friday when one motor began to fail. He was 300 miles from his home base and decided to turn back.

Then he spotted two Messerschmitts and swung around to meet them. Maneuvering as best he could and bearing down on the gun trigger he trained to knock out the Nazi while a steady stream of tracers from the German ship grazed the bottom of the P-38.

Just as the planes closed in the engine on Zirkle's craft failed. The P-38 went into a steep bank, then into a full roll as the engine caught hold.

"It all happened so fast I hardly knew what was going on," the Ohioan recounted. "But I was close enough as I passed over the other plane to see the pilot's white scarf. The ships actually touched each other—there is a dent in my vertical stabilizer and scratches on the boom—and I felt a crash when we hit. I pulled around immediately to turn into him once again and saw him below.

"I began smelling gas and saw a stream spraying back from my plane. I thought it probably was from the belly tanks so I dropped them.

"I must have hit the German with one, because the next time I picked him up he was going down into the clouds below. A minute later, * * * I saw the pilot in a parachute. I could hardly believe it * * *.

"I don't believe I got a single shot into him and we didn't do more than brush each other when we came together, so I am positive I hit him with at least one tank at about 50 feet."

Foster Announces Change In Dates for Marion Race Card

Frank M. Foster, president of the Houghton Sulky Co. and secretary of the Marion Trotting Association, announced today that Marion's annual Little Grand Circuit harness racing meet will be held at the county fairgrounds June 8-24 instead of June 15—July 5 as previously announced.

Foster said the new dates, arranged in cooperation with sponsors of the Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall, will be submitted to the state racing commission for approval. Previously the commission approved the June 15-July 5 schedule and Foster said he anticipated no trouble in securing approval of the revised dates.

The dates originally alloted to Marion provided for 19 nights of racing but in order not to conflict with the Cleveland races Foster reduced the Marion meet by four days, making it equal in length to last year's banner program.

In a letter mailed this week to horsemen who have expressed intent to allow owners and trainers an opportunity to enter Cleveland stake events which conflicted with the Marion schedule.

Changing the dates is not expected to react unfavorably in respect to the Marion races, but much the opposite will assure Marion of another great meeting in that many of the nation's top stables will stop in Marion before heading into Grand Circuit competition at Cleveland.

Opens Race Season

For the second consecutive year the Marion meeting will be the first big speed carnival of the season. And from all indications it will exceed any previous Marion program. In announcing the date changes Foster said he has received several hundred stake entries, representing virtually all of the big name stables.

Foster said the complete list of stake entries would not be available until later in the week. However, from the early entries it is evident all of the headline drivers and trainers will make Marion their first stop. The list of drivers already assured includes Franklin Safford, Harry Fitzpatrick, Eddie Havens, Vic and Charles Fleming, Henry Thomas, Tom Barry, Sep Palin, Wayne Smart, Harry Short, Bob Plaxico, Earl Roush, Gabe Cartnall, Larry Craig, Carl Hotchell, Jake Mahoney and Ernie Smith, to mention a few.

Marion's only active driver at present—Hugh Bell—will also be on hand. Hughie, a public stable operator, is now training several head at Marysville and plans to move his training headquarters to the fairground twice-around as the time for the Marion races moves nearer.

Phillips Is Starter

Foster has contracted the services of Steve Phillips of Erie, Pa., as starting judge and Joe McGraw of Washington, Pa., as presiding judge. Both have worked Marion races over a period of more than 20 years. As yet the remainder of the officiating staff has not been completed, but other additions are likely to be Wayne Groves of Pinehurst, N. C., and Harvey Hartman of Quakertown, Pa.

As in previous years the Woman's Board of Marion City hospital will again benefit from the meeting. The board will direct the advance sale of tickets and is expected to take other active parts in the promotion of the meeting. Foster said he has had many requests for tickets already but the sale will not begin until about a month or six weeks before the meet begins.

Susce May "Catch On" with the Indians

By CHIP ROYAL
AP Features Sports Editor

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Ten minutes after a visitor arrives in this likeable college town, he reaches the hotel headquarters of the Cleveland Indians.

From then on, there are only two topics in the lobby, up in the rooms, or on the big Purdue campus: George Susce and Purdue university.

The Purdue drum beating is expected, for this is the stamping grounds of the Boilermakers—and the townsfolk are more than rabid supporters of Purdue teams. Woe be to those who do not agree.

But, Susce? How does that 200 pounder rate so much conversation? The Tribe's roster lists the "Good Kid" as a coach.

Ah yes, a coach he is, and a good one, but, he is also the hardest working, liveliest, and one of the best conditioned athletes here.

And, in case you don't recall the name, said Mr. Susce was once a catcher.

To get the complete picture, the scene must shift to Manager Lou Boudreau who says:

"I have only two worrier, as far as I can see now, a regular second baseman and a No. 1 catcher."

Well, Susce is willing to lift one worry off his master's shoulders.

Ready Any Time

"I'm ready to catch any time Lou wants me," smiles big George. "We've got a winning team here this year and if I can help in any way I'll do it."

Boudreau admits he may be forced to use Susce at the start of the season:

"If we start without Buddy Rosar, Susce will be our first catcher. He knows the hitters, and how to handle the pitchers. That will give me a chance to break in Jim McDonnell.

"McDonnell is a good prospect behind the bat, but he's got to take it slow at first."

He doesn't appear rugged enough to work too much. He weighs 165 pounds. But, with Susce starting the season, and "catching quite a few games," as Boudreau puts it, Jim would be handy to have around. The only other catcher in camp is Russ Lyon, 28-year-old 230-pounder from East Point, Ga.

You would never know that Susce is a coach and 33 years old, the way he cavorts around the Purdue field house or on the diamond.

The fellow has more pep than many of the youngsters. He leads the team in calisthenics, is the first one in the pepper games, does more than half of the receiving, and is still the liveliest player under the showers.

Some of the boys thought they would show up George, so they started to do splits and what nots as they washed away the dirt.

Outlasts the Kids

George joined in the fun and even the youngsters had to admit that the "Good Kid" was too much for them when it comes to exercises.

A lot of fans think of George as a major leaguer. True, he has been in the big time since 1939, but he only caught 31 games for the Pirates. The Phillies gave him a trial in 1928.

He played in 12 different minor leagues, though, and has a lifetime batting record of .228. Not much for a catcher, but the way he could very well threaten the .300 clouters. Keep an eye on Susce.

Bill Barber Rolls 256 Score To Lead Bowlers at Recreation Center.

Bill Barber, City league bowler, rapped out a 256, one of the season's highest single game scores, to lead Friday night kegling at the Marion Recreation Center. He also had top series, 598. Feller of the Boyd-Uncapher five, had a 238 game and 605 series to lead the Commercial league at the Palace Recreation.

D. Wolbert with 200 and E. Dixon with 201 were the only other City leaguers in the 200 group. Other high games in the Commercial league were Al Shull 200, Fetter 200, Harris 223, Koren 206, Caprino 205, Barrett 204, and Robinson 202. Harris' 587 was the second three-game count in the Commercial circuit.

Omar Bakers came within a game of the Commercial loop leaders, National City Bank, by defeating the bankers in two out of three games Friday night. Schaffner-Denzer paces the City circuit by a seven-game margin.

Standings and individual three-game-series totals in the two Friday night leagues follow:

Toledoan Is Newest Possible Baseball Manager for Marion

Whether Marion will be represented in the Ohio State baseball league this year was still a moot question today, following a meeting of league team representatives in Columbus yesterday, The Associated Press reported today.

Joe Donnelly, president of the Class D league, said he planned to make another effort to obtain an operator for the Marion team to make a six-club loop possible.

Latest in the long line of prospective operators of the Marion Franchise is Charles (Chuck) Kessler of Toledo, business manager of the Lima team in 1939.

Donnelly said Kessler has expressed an interest in the Marion franchise but did not know what arrangements he could make to get away from his war industry job.

Final plans for operation of the league have been held up because of the uncertainty at Marion. If no one is found to operate the franchise it then would be necessary to drop Newark from the organization, leaving only four teams — Zanesville, Middletown Springfield and Lima.

The four-hour meeting of league directors was devoted largely to a discussion of the Marion situation. Donnelly said he felt sure financial backing would be available at Marion but that a "baseball man" was needed to set up the team's organization.

Dale Miller, former secretary of the Indianapolis American association team, and "Hank" Rigney, Toledo sports promoter, were mentioned last week as possible operators of the Marion franchise but Miller sent word to Donnelly he had made other connections and Rigney said he did not feel he could take the time from his other activities to devote to the Marion team.

Rigney also said he would not be interested unless he could obtain a working agreement with the St. Louis Browns.

May Go with Four Teams

The league's 130-game schedule —for six teams—already has been approved but another, drawn up on a four-team basis, also is ready.

Newark, whose active league membership is being held up pending a decision at Marion, also had bad news for the league directors. Officials said they had received word the Detroit Tigers did not believe they would have any players available for Newark.

Minor changes were made yesterday in the league's constitution and by-laws. A provision for a minimum admission charge of 50 cents was stricken from the constitution and it was voted that receipts at holiday games (Memorial day, Fourth of July and Labor day) be divided equally by the competing clubs after league dues and taxes are deducted. Home teams will retain receipts at other games.

NEW YORK YANKEES NOT COUNTED OUT OF TITLE RACE YET

They Best Dodgers and Blue Jays in Week-End Games at Atlantic City.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3 — Don't count the New York Yankees out of the running for the American league pennant—not yet, anyway.

When the World Champions lost such star players as Charley Keller, Spud Chandler, Bill Dickey, Johnny Murphy, Marius Russo, Joe Gordon, Rollie Hemsley, Frankie Crosetti and Bill Johnson to the armed services a lot of wishful thinkers put their thoughts into words—the crippled Yanks couldn't possibly win their fourth straight pennant and eighth in nine years.

The season hasn't started yet and, who knows, maybe the Yankees will finish in the second division for the first time since 1925. But events of the week-end when the Yanks beat the Brooklyn Dodgers and Blue Jays at Atlantic City, N. J., indicate Manager Joe McCarthy may fashion another of his managerial "miracles."

The Dodgers and the Phils both outhit the champs, but the final scores read: Yanks 5, Phils 4, and Yanks 4, Dodgers 3 in 11 innings.

News from other major league camps:

New York Giants—Cliff Melton named to pitch against Red Sox on Wednesday.

St. Louis Cardinals — National league champs, lucky to beat Fourth Ferrying Group yesterday, are due for plenty of hard work this week.

Cleveland Indians—Pitcher Jim Bagby, who wanted to be traded, buried the hatchet with Lou Boudreau upon joining Merchant Marine. Wrotesports writer he wished club best of luck and predicted Allie Reynolds would be 20-game winner.

Boston Red Sox—Vic Johnson, Yank Terry and Joe Wood Jr. listed to pitch against Navy at Annapolis today.

St. Louis Browns — Manager Luke Sewell scheduled another game with Toledo today. Mudhens walloped the Browns yesterday, 12-4.

Detroit Tigers—Charles Metro filling in at third until Pinky Higgins, last of camp arrivals, is ready.

ZIVIC FIGHT CANCELLED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 3 — Promoter Bob Brickman and Matchmaker Larry Atkins have cancelled the 10-round bout between Fritzie Zivic of Pittsburgh and Youngstown's Tommy Bell after an X-ray examination of Zivic's left hand disclosed a broken finger. Dr. Hagedorn said he would not be able to fight for at least a month.

County High Schools Consider Prospects for Track Program

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

Sports odds and ends here and elsewhere:

Questionnaires pertaining to this spring's Marion county track program have been sent out by D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, to all 12 county athletic league members. Primary aim of this is to "feel out" county officials as to whether they want a county track meet this spring. The event was held last year at Prospect Community park. All indications point to a meet this spring, although it may be trimmed considerably in attendance and number of participating teams and schoolboys. It is expected that a red or green light will be given Mr. Mills and the county athletic board after the results of the questionnaires are tabulated. Merton Porter, Pleasant coach and head of last year's track meet, is in favor of holding the affair this spring. And you can bet your bottom ration point that V. L. Anderson, Morral High school superintendent and coach, would like to see the meet staged this year. Probably anyone would if he were in the lucky shoes of Mr. Anderson, who has Wilmer Bibler, that celebrated one-man track team, for a nucleus. Bibler has won more than his quota of track and field events, both in the county and other track meets, such as the Ohio Wesleyan relays.

Raising of the personal foul limit from four to five by the national basketball rules committee will have no effect on the Marion county amateur cage league next year. This loop, which completed its season at the Y.M.C.A. three weeks ago, has had a five-foul limit for several seasons. The result has been fast-moving, action-filled games, sometimes on the rough, but never on the "dirty" side. The small Y.M.C.A. floor, which isn't as big as the Edison Junior High school court, hasn't helped matters any in holding the county circuit players in check. Sometimes, a player bumped into another unavoidably, because of the pint-sized confines of the Y gym.

* * *

This change in the foul rule probably is whole-heartedly welcomed by North-Central Ohio conference teams, especially Marion Harding. The local Presidents were hit hard at crucial times in games last season when first string players had to go to the showers because of their fourth foul commission. Allowing the players this one extra foul might mean the difference between a win and a loss for the Prexies or any other team which has been plagued in the past with key players being ejected on their "fatal fourths." Stew Young's departure in the exciting district tournament game with Newark in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter was more than a little responsible for Harding's heartbreaking loss, 36 to 34. Young was playing a great defensive game at the time of ejection and when he went to the sidelines, the fast, experienced Newark forwards started outmaneuvering Harding guards and making the points count.

* * *

The first game of the 194 season in the Marion amateur baseball league, formed by Bill Hime, Paul Barnhouse and Russ Harruff will be played at Harding stadium April 10, Hime announced today. His team, the Marion Hornets, will play a doubleheader meeting the Harruff Barbs in the opener and taking on the Brown Lizzards in the nightcap. Presably starting battery for the Hornets is Dick Eckert on the mound and George Roest, catcher.

* * *

Don't be surprised if this year district softball tournament is not held in Marion. It probably will be in Tiffin, where the fans really turn out for games, both league and independent. Attendance last season averaged upwards of 1,00 for night games. A Tiffin team the Routh Packers, were runners up in last year's tourney at Lincoln Park here. The Foster-Screw Works outfit won the title and was defeated in a first round contest in the state softball tournament at Columbus.

* * *

What some of the other N.C.O papers are saying about the threatened break up of the league:

Bill McKee, sports and city editor of the Ashland Times-Gazette, who is given credit for discovering last Monday night's secret session to discuss disbanding the loop, says in regard to the effect dissolving the league would have on Ashland High athletics: "Loss of league games would not be the only deletions from the Ashland schedule. Should Northwalk and Willard join the proposed league, that would take two more games off the Ashland schedule because those two schools would replace Ashland with league foe ...The A's appeared to be unwanted in the N.C.O. because the boys think they're too big and tough."

And from the column of Spiv Harris, Mt. Vernon News sports writer: "As far as we're concerned the N.C.O. league can disband or keep on operating. If it breaks up, here's hoping Mt. Vernon continues to schedule Ashland, Marion and Galion, plus Newark and Coshocton."

Spiv, did you make a spelling mistake or is that really Newark? We didn't know Mt. Vernon was getting such overnight results from its revamped athletic program.

Writer Sees Marion Co. Nurse at Anzio Hospital

A Marion county girl was one of the Ohioans met by William F. McDermott, Cleveland columnist now touring the battle sectors of Italy, according to one of his recently published columns.

The Marion county girl is Miss Geneva G. Imbody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs William A. Imbody of south of Agosta, one of 45 nurses on duty at an Anzio Beachhead hospital. He praised the nurses for their loyalty and selflessness and said "they take you about the wards, explaining the condition of each patient with an air of cool authority." All of them, he said, volunteered for overseas service and all of them voluntarily offered themselves for this special front line beachhead assignment.

Miss Imbody has been in overseas duty for one and one-half years and prior to going into Italy was in the African battle area. She took her training at Grant hospital in Columbus. Her brother, Delores Wilson Imbody also is serving with the armed forces

ROADS ARE CUT AROUND IMPHAL

Jap Patrols Sever Communications of Allies in Drive Into India.

By The Associated Press

NEW DELHI, April 3—Japanese patrols, filtering through the jungles of eastern India onto the Manipur plain, have cut the roads around Imphal, Manipur capital, in an offensive obviously aimed at Dimapur on the Assam-Burma railway lifeline to Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's forces.

The question whether air-borne supplies might be dropped to the Imphal garrison was answered here, by the statement that that would not be necessary as the crisis would be overcome before such action was needed.

Dimapur is 44 miles across the Naga hills of the head hunters from Kohima, 60 miles north of Imphal.

Fierce fighting in the wild hill country east of Kohima in India and repulse of a determined Japanese drive to reach the Tiddim road below Imphal to the south was announced today by allied headquarters in the showdown battle for allied communication centers and bases along the Burma border.

Another Japanese column thrusting toward Imphal from the Chindwin river area to the east was stopped by allied forces as it attempted to reach the Imphal plain from the rolling foothill country of the Chin hills, the communique said.

Jap Guns Shell Road

Enemy artillery continued to shell the Tamu-Palel road southeast of Imphal.

Further south on the Arakan front only minor patrol activity was reported. Near Buthedaung, allied detachments were said to have inflicted casualties on enemy units attempting to infiltrate British positions.

(A Tokyo broadcast declared the British 25th division had been forced to withdraw from around Maungdaw and Buthedaung on the Arakan front, but this report lacked allied confirmation.)

Glider-borne allied commandos have cut all north and south communications arteries to Myitkyina, main Japanese base in northern Burma and have smashed enemy efforts to crash their airstrip far behind Japanese lines, front dispatches reported.

American fighter planes destroyed 12 Japanese aircraft yesterday in operations over the front.

Japs Meet Reverses in Southwest Pacific

By The Associated Press

Things were generally unhealthy for the Japanese in the southwest Pacific. Capture of two strategic hills outside the Empress Augusta bay beachhead at Bougainville were announced by General Douglas MacArthur.

Americans strengthened their drive on Bogadjim, 20 miles south of strategic Madang on New Guinea. In the Finesterre hills southwest of the Americans, the Australians repulsed Japanese counter attacks. The Yanks are now within 13 miles of Bogadjim.

Two ships were sunk and airdromes damaged as American airmen unleashed 200 more tons of bombs on battered Rabaul, New Britain.

Truk and Ponape in the central Pacific Carolines were bombed again Seventh airforce Liberators pounded Dublon, central island in the Truk atoll before dawn Friday (U. S. time) setting large fires. It was the fourth attack in four nights and the eighth in four days. The same day Army Mitchells with a Marine fighter escort hit Ponape, eastern Caroline base, for the twenty-first time. All planes returned safely.

Find Way To Make Gasoline and Coal from Farm Waste

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, April 3—A post-war plan for making the world's gasoline, and later its coal, from farm crop wastes, forests and seaweeds was presented to the American Chemical society here today.

The plan is based on a newly completed laboratory process developed during the past 18 years by Dr. E. Berl of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Commercial perfection of the process would take time, but Dr. Berl indicated the method is simpler and cheaper than present synthetic gasoline processes.

He predicted that in the world of tomorrow there need be no have-not nations for coal and oil. He said he has information that England already is planning a carbohydrate empire, probably in Africa, to develop post-war gasoline.

Dr. Berl puts plant wastes in a cooker which causes them to burn internally, consuming their own internal oxygen. When the oxygen is gone they become hydrocarbons. The product of the cooker is a jelly-like mass which he termed a diesel fuel without further refinement. Adding hydrogen produces oils, gasoline or coal and cokes.

This synthetic coal looks somewhat different than bituminous but is superior to the sulphur-bearing natural coals.

Dr. Berl said one year's farm crop wastes of the United States could make enough gasoline to run our 32,000,000 cars for a year.

Sugar cane is especially good, because even after all the sugar has been extracted, the gasoline yield is still high. Other good gasoline sources, include cornstalks, sweet potatoes, sorghum, grass, leaves, Irish moss, seaweed, algae, wood and sawdust.

COURT MARTIAL

parts were defective; granting the company an unwarranted "A-quality" control rating; ordering questionable and defective parts passed; delivering defective and substandard engine and parts; falsifying laboratory and foundry test-records; claiming "falsely that airforce inspectors had rejected satisfactory engines and parts; and ordering Millard T. Clark, supervisor inspector of the central procurement district, not to enter the Wright plant to determine whether defective engines and parts were being delivered.

The hearing is an outgrowth of investigations into inspection practices at the Wright Aeronautical Corp. plant in nearby Lockland.

The government has damage suits against the company on file here and in New Jersey, and one informer's suit has been dismissed and another filed here.

The department of justice investigated the plant in March 1943 and the senate's Truman war production investigating committee the following month.

Conviction on the charges may result in dismissal from service, fine, imprisonment, or all three.

The court roster includes Col Harry E. Gibbs of Canton, O., director of security and intelligence at Fort Hayes.

OVERFLOW AUDIENCE AT MISSION'S CLOSE

Hears Gipsy Smith Conclude Story of Career.

Closing services of the Gipsy Smith union evangelistic mission were held in Epworth Methodist church Sunday with an overflow audience of approximately 2,000 persons hearing the conclusion of the story, "From Gipsy Tent to Pulpit" given by the evangelist, Gipsy Smith, Sunday night.

At the night service appreciation was expressed by Rev. E. M. Hertzler, chairman for the Marion County Council of Churches which sponsored the mission, to those who assisted in carrying out plans for and making the meetings possible. Thanks was extended to the evangelist and Mrs. Smith for their services, J. W. Yoder, song leader, the choir, Mrs J. W. Baker, pianist, Dr. S. M. Ingmire, pastor, and the official board of Epworth church for use of the building, to John C. Schreffler, custodian, Ray Eaton and his staff of ushers, D. A. Brown, F. H. Lemasters and his committee, Rev. Garrison Roebuck, Rev. J. R. Dallas and Rev. Eldred Johnston for special services. A vote of appreciation was then extended Rev. Hertzler.

Announcements were made concerning the noon-day Holy week services to be held in downtown Marion this week. Good Friday service in Calvary Evangelical church, and a "Loyalty crusade" to be launched in individual churches following Easter. Dr. R. H. Miller of Manchester, Ind., speaker for the Holy week services, offered prayer. The evangelist completed the story of his life, part of which he gave in the service held Friday night. At the afternoon service he spoke on "The Beauty of the Christian Life." Rev. J. R. Dallas offered prayer.

Speaking of the conversion of his mother in the gipsy tent as she was near death, he told his audience of the deep impression the experience left with his father. "Having no Bible, no one to tell him of Jesus, he felt a need he did not understand, an unrest, an inward hunger for 'the true light that lighteth the world'," he said. "Determined to find what the mother found, he set out for London," the evangelist continued. There he found a workingman who was willing to talk to him and invited him to a mission, where he was "for the first time in his life in a house of God."

"Returning to his children with a glorious experience of conversion, he talked and prayed and preached all night and in the coming days until his five children were converted and 13 other members of the gipsy band," the evangelist recounted. After determining to preach, Gipsy Smith learned to read from billboards and held his first service at the age of 17, he told his audience. At the beginning of his ministry, announced as "Rodney Smith, the gipsy boy," he became known as "The Gipsy," finally as "Gipsy Smith" the name he has retained for the remainder of his preaching career of 68 years, he said.

He and Mrs. Smith will leave tonight for Philadelphia.

EXPECT WHEAT LOAN RATE TO ADVANCE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—Announcement of a further advance in the parity price for wheat has led grain men to estimate that the 1944 loan on the bread cereal, Chicago basis, will be about $1.47½ a bushel compared with a 1943 loan of $1.42.

The government loan to farmers is computed on a basis of 85 per cent of parity as of July 1. The national parity level is now $1.51 a bushel compared with $1.41 a year ago and grain experts believe a further increase is a logical expectation over the next few months.

Although the loan rate will be higher, crop experts expect the amount of grain which will go into the loan to be smaller than last year. Assuming this year's higher prices are maintained, it will be more profitable to sell the grain than to obtain a government loan on it.

The national average price for wheat March 15 was $1.46 a bushel compared with $1.23 a year ago.

A large part of the wheat placed under the loan during 1943 has been redeemed, indicating farmers find it profitable to pay back the loan and sell the wheat in the open market. At latest tabulations, loans had been made on about 130,000,000 bushels, of which 73,000,000 bushels had been redeemed.

The average 1943 loan was $1.25 a bushel on a national basis, including some transportation charges.

SELLING WAVE LED BY RAILS

Accounts Trimmed Generally After Rally Effort Falls To Attract Support.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—Selling of recently buoyant rails spread to other sections of today's stock market after an early recovery attempt failed to attract adherents.

Dealings, relatively slow at the opening, expanded a bit as trends wavered and, near the fourth hour, declines of fractions to a point or so were widespread.

Accounts were trimmed here and there partly because of the idea last week's technical relapse might have further to go before meeting a revival of investment demand.

Prominent on the downward drift were Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, Douglas Aircraft, Montgomery Ward and Western Union "A."

WHEAT HOLDS FIRM UNDERTONE TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3 — A firm undertone prevailed in wheat today although other grains displayed slightly easier tendencies. Rye was down almost a cent at one time but rallied from the day's lows. Activity in all pits was restricted because of the uncertain war and political situation in Europe, with traders watching the progress of Finnish-Russian peace proposals.

Demand for cash wheat was firm in all markets and some buying of futures was based upon a report of the Kansas grain, feed and seed dealers association that there will be heavy abandonment of winter wheat acreage over the western half of Kansas. There was a slight pick-up in offerings of cash corn, bookings being placed at more than 50,000 bushels.

Bricker Points To Two Fears of U. S. Soldiers

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Gov. Bricker says soldiers "fear stagnation of unemployment after the war" more than they fear death at the hands of the enemy.

To prevent this fear from becoming a reality two things are necessary, asserts the candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

"First," he declared in a radio address Saturday over the Columbia Broadcasting System, "we must reestablish faith in our American system of private enterprise. * * *

"Second, we must reestablish faith in the American system of local self-government. * * * If we believe in self-government we must afford men and women a chance to practice it."

KEEP OUT—OR ELSE

NEW YORK — Army posters blossomed today in certain areas of the towering Hudson river palisades, warning several hunters to keep away from abandoned quarries where the Ordnance Department disposes of unexploded bombs brought back from war theaters.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

LILLIAN UNDERWOOD'S very voice is heartening. As its rich tones reached my ear, I felt an upward surge of spirit, even at her stock question, "Anything wrong?" I remembered Dicky's pronouncement: "Good old Lil! Always on the job. You always have a feeling that she's on her toes, ready to leap to her rescue."

"Nothing very wrong," I told her. "It's only that my sinus is troubling me again, and I may have to go into the city for a check-up. You know how things are out here. I wondered if you possibly could come out for a day or two."

Stock Code

It was an old stock code between us, and I knew that her nimble brain was checking it from all angles, and especially on the query concerning my father concealed in it.

"You'd better come today or tomorrow," she said. "Your doctor's in town, now, I happen to know. But he's going away soon for a few days. Would you like to have me make an appointment with him?"

"That would be wonderful," I told her. "It's too late to get the afternoon train. I'm not telephoning from home but from Easthampton. I can get the first train in the morning, however, so make the appointment for ten o'clock tomorrow morning."

"I'll do that, and I can take the afternoon train out," she said. "Sure it won't inconvenience you?" I asked, with the casual phrasing we always use when "talking secrets" over the wire.

Lillian Free

"Not a bit," she said. "Marion just returned to Weirhampton from a visit, and she won't be home again for weeks. And Harry's up to his ears in war work he doesn't know he has a home. So I'm free—as can be. And I'll detach Harry long enough for you to have a look at him, perhaps at luncheon, if your sinus will permit."

"I'll discipline it," I said laughing. "I very much want to see Harry."

I stressed those words, for I know that Harry Underwood, Lillian's husband, of giant stature, magnificent physique and keen mind, would be wanted by my father in any conference concerning the problem which had come to me.

"I'll tell him. He'll be very flattered," she laughed. "And I'll meet you at the station tomorrow morning. Look out for me'"

"I will! Thank you, and goodbye."

I hung up the receiver and was about to take it down again to call Mrs. Tiger, when I noticed Shumway advancing toward the booth. I was sure that he meant to enter the next booth, so that he could overhear what I was saying, and I spoke quickly, as I came out of the booth, opening my purse as I did so.

Outwits Shumway

"Oh, Mr. Shumway!" I said. I'm so glad to have caught you this way. Will you go over to the post office and buy me these supplies? I'll just jot them down."

"I wanted to telephone," he said.

"Oh, you can do that while you're gone," I said airily. "You need not be back for fifteen minutes. I have to get some cosmetics and things here, and we must hurry if we're to get back to the farm house on time. Here"

I thrust into his hand a slip of paper on which, while I talked, I had scribbled a memorandum concerning stamps and stamped envelopes he was to buy for me. Then I drew a bill from my pocket book.

"If you'll just get those for me, and get your telephoning done before you come back, I'll be ready to go on to my next place."

There was a baffled look in his eyes, but evidently he did not quite dare to insist on his errand, when I was paying so outrageously for his time. Or perhaps he did not wish to arouse suspicion in my mind. At any rate, he uttered his stereotyped "Okay!" and departed, while I dashed back into the telephone booth, and called Mrs. Tiger.

"Do you know whether the boys came home from school?" I asked.

Boys

"They're here now," she said with a comfortable laugh. "They got off the bus here, said they'd walk home. I think they thought it was cookie-baking day."

"The rascals!" I exclaimed fondly. "But I want you to give them a message for me. Tell them as long as they are there, they are to stay until I come after them, and they are to help you with—oh, with that sofa you are upholstering. Try to invent something for them. The point is, I don't want them to get home before I do. I have a surprise for them."

"I understand," she said, and I know she did, fully. "And, they'll be here when you get here. Do you want to talk to them?"

"Not now," I told her. "I'm in a hurry. Good-bye."

"Good-bye," she said, and I went out of the booth to the cosmetics counter, where I bought some needed supplies, then waited for Shumway, who appeared promptly at the end of fifteen minutes.

"Please take me to a stationer's shop," I said. "I want to buy some maps."

"Some maps?" he repeated, evidently startled.

"Yes," I said shortly. "Please hurry."

I hurried into the stationer's shop, purchased the only map they had, refused to have it wrapped, and when I came out was clutching it in my hand.

"And now," I said, climbing into the car, "please drive me down to the beach. I haven't had a look at the ocean in months, and I want to walk along the beach before I go back. I'll just have time for a short stroll before we have to start back."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Baby's Skin

The baby's skin covers more area in proportion to weight than the adults. Also, it contains just as many sensory end organs for temperature, touch and pain as the adult. The baby is therefore very much more sensitive and responsive to temperature changes and skin discomforts from clothes, etc., than the adult.

The baby is more sensitive to hot and cold contacts than the adult, and this may explain why although the bath water may seem satisfactory to the adult—the baby's reaction indicates discomfort, that it is too hot or too cold.

Evaporation of misture from a baby's skin is more rapid, or rather the baby's skin is constantly moister and heat loss is greater than with adults. Babies really feel hot weather less than adults, but they feel cold weather more. They can stand exposure far less than adults, and this determines the different standards in selecting clothes for babies.

Every year the child's skin becomes thicker in texture and less sensitive. The baby, however, requires the most careful and sympathetic attention to its skin, especially as to scrupulous cleanliness. The diaper rash is the reaction and sign of the sensitiveness of the baby's skin to small amounts of irritating substances that would not result in any irritation in later years. Diaper rash may be due to a coarse laundry soap, but is more likely to be due to dirt. The buttocks and creases between the fat folds in the baby's skin should receive daily attention, or oftener, to see that they are free from any irritating matter. Keep the buttocks well oiled or powdered to avoid a diaper rash. The baby may clench its hands so tightly that the moisture in the palms causes a softening of the skin there. Open the fingers and let the air reach the palms and, if the condition increases, place a soft fold of linen—too large to be lost—within the fingers, replacing it when it becomes moist.

Fat babies, or those who gain weight rapidly, are especially liable to skin rashes.

With its excessive perspiration and sensitiveness to temperature, the baby's skin is especially liable to heat rashes. The cure and prevention of heat rashes is simply to allow the baby to cool off. I saw a terrible case of heat rash last summer in a baby whose mother thought it broke out because it perspired so much. To absorb the perspiration and to keep it comfortable while travelling, she had pinned it in a huge feather pillow. Tepid sponge baths also help—in hot weather they prevent. The skin should be most exactingly dried after the bath, and talcum powder used freely to prevent prickly heat.

Eczema, which is a scaly, itchy eruption, is almost certain to be due to an allergic reaction to some common food or to soap, clothes or anything else which comes in contact with the skin. The cure is difficult and requires infinite patience to discover just the combination of causes responsible. In the course of time, and usually without regard to treatment or diet, it goes away as suddenly and mysteriously as it came.

Impetigo is a skin eruption peculiar to childhood. It is a pus infection which appears especially on the face, and is serious to the extent that it is debilitating and uncomfortable. It usually requires professional attention from a physician rather than home remedies.

Ringworm is another skin curse of the early years. Wool socks, contrary to general belief, cause excessive perspiration and this provides an ideal condition for such infections to occur.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. B. C.:—Should a person who has anginal attacks drive an automobile? Do you think the driving would be injurious to the patient?

Answer: Certainly a person subject to anginal attacks should not drive an automobile. It isn't a question of whether it would be injurious to the patient, but to other people. I know of two cases of such a person killing pedestrians, and numerous serious crash accidents.

A. U. T.:—A man 75 years old, though he dresses warmly, is never warm. What could be done?

Answer: Perhaps he needs some thyroid extract. Many old people do.

LUNAR AND natal aspects of interesting planets signify unusual impetus in all commercial, professional legal and literary affairs, which may be speeded up to most progressive and productive accomplishments. This may be done with little assistance from elders, employers or others in high places. There may be desirable travel or change, with much constructive work of definite value, especially in the development of new propositions. On the personal side things may be lively, interesting and romantic.

Those whose birthday it is may find things moving along in happy, lively and progressive grooves during the year, with personal effort productive minus aid from those in influential posts, unless plans involve powerful corporations, legal, political or fraternal bodies. There may be subtle agreements or tacit understandings, possibly in promoting new projects or programs of consequence. Change and travel are shown, and the social or sentimental values are foreseen.

A child born on this day should have much versatility and many talents, practical as well as artistic and literary. It should have a pleasant career and life.
